Editor of the Psychologist Report by Dr Amanda Burson

Thank you to all the contributors to The Psychologist to date. To help facilitate BPS funding award related contributions I have created a “check-list” for the various submission types (ie. travel bursary report; student project report etc). These will usually be attached to the email letting recipients know they have been successful in obtaining funding but can be requested and/or clarified by emailing editor_psychologist@brpsychsoc.org. While all of the items on the checklist are required, the points for the body of the report are intended as a suggested guideline rather than strict criteria and variations will be considered .
